MAKING MAJOR DECISIONS FOR THE CHILDREN

Explain how you and your spouse have shared the responsibilities for making major decisions for your children. This information is for only the last twelve months before your divorce was filed. Do not provide information for any time after the filing of the divorce.

1. First, review the types of decisions in the list, then answer the following question.

Did you and your spouse always make the types of major decisions on the list by talking the decision over, and coming to an agreement on what the decision should be?

Yes No

If you answered "Yes," you don't need to complete the list; you're finished with this section. If you answered "No," read item 2.

2. Complete the list on the next page by indicating the percentage of time each type of decision was shared, which means you and your spouse talked the decision over and came to an agreement on the decision; or the percentage of time each type of decision was made Mother, or Father, alone, without talking it over. For each type of decision, the numbers in all of the blanks should always add up to 100. In items (F) and (G), you may write in other types of major decisions, and complete those items just as you completed the first part of the list.
