

Tooth Development Chart --- Baby Teeth

Baby teeth develop under the gums before birth. Though there is quite a bit of variability, the teeth usually erupt, or push through the gums in the above sequence. Note that baby teeth are lettered clockwise from A through T, starting with the baby's upper right back molar. Baby's first two teeth to arrive are usually O and P, shortly after 6 months of age.